

The Place to Connect with Startup Founders

Everyone wants to hitch a ride on the next unicorn.

As a vendor or resource to startups, getting in early increases your success rate of being part of exciting growth ahead.

But reaching the founder audience can be challenging. Most places founders use are anonymous, transactional or volatile. And none of them allow service vendors to connect efficiently and effectively with founders.

Examples of Places Founders Use

FoundersList is a place that brings founders together to connect and collaborate

get great services recommended by other founders find events

enroll in incubators/accelerators

share ideas and news

Position your offering directly to early-stage founders and influencers.

Launched in 2020, the community is rapidly growing and includes more than 200 vetted profiles of proven founders looking to do it again.

In addition, the community boasts users representing the most prominent VCs and incubators.
